Remembering
Our Neighbor,
Mike Poloskey

Our neighborhood recently lost a friend and neighbor who will be greatly missed.

Mike was one of those people who enjoyed life and enjoyed sharing it with others. He loved a good beer, a good story, sports, hiking, and getting outside for a walk with their dog, Lucy. Always friendly and easy to talk to, Mike was one of those neighbors you were always glad to see out and about.

He was proud of his time in the Air Force and always seemed to have something interesting to share from his life and experiences. More than anything, Mike brought personality, humor, and friendliness to our community.

Our thoughts are with his wife, Connie, and all of Mike's family and friends. The neighborhood just won't feel quite the same without him.

You can read Mike's obituary HERE

Editor's Note: We want to be respectful of each family's wishes. We only share the passing of a neighbor in the newsletter when the family has given permission, so there may be times when a loss in our community is not included.

Nature Is Getting Ready For What Comes Next...

Leaf Peepers travel here to see our fall colors. Too much rain, not enough rain, fluctuating temps...it tough to know WHEN they will be at their full display.

Leave the Leaves! As they decompose, they return nutrients to the soil and provide winter shelter for insects and other small wildlife. Henderson County Cooperative Extension recommends leaving at least some fallen leaves in natural areas and garden beds rather than removing every one.

Who's Leaving, Who's Staying and Who Stays all Winter?

September and early October are important migration months for many of our birds. Birds that spent the summer here begin heading south as colder weather reduces their food supply.

Meanwhile, our cardinals, chickadees, bluebirds and woodpeckers generally stay with us year-round. Hendersonville is actually a good place to watch this seasonal movement! Jackson Park is known among birders as an excellent fall migration spot. <https://www.blueridgeaudubon.org/>
